

Our principles for your health

R2 Hotels has always worked to take care of all the environments of our hotels and apartments, in terms of hygiene, safety and health, and in the times that we live with the Covid19 we will further strengthen all actions to mainly care for our guests, employees, suppliers and other partners that are part of our family.

Our improvement in the form of collective care will be present, now and always, in our new protocols focused on the care of all of us who live at R2 Hotels. The actions that we will take in our common spaces, rooms and swimming pools will always be so that the experience of your time with us continues to be the most spectacular possible, and that we maintain leadership in treating our clients, wherever you can find us.

Since our inception we have had companies certified in the management of sustainability and food safety. And it is with them that we continue to count on this new stage of control in an environment affected by Covid19. And now we will work with them so that the measures to be implemented are as safe as possible, and also allow a guaranteed experience for our guests, all from before arrival at the hotel, such as during your stay with us and the enjoyment of our common areas, and until the moment of your departure.

We´d like you to put aside the normal worries that this disease has created in our environment, and to feel that being at R2 Hotels now is how you have always felt, happy and looked after.
